

NOW SHOWING

10:15 It's Arbor Day, Charlie Brown

While researching a report on Arbor Day, Sally enlists the gang to turn Charlie Brown's ball field into a garden and orchard, complete with a tree on the pitcher's mound and scarecrow in the outfield. During the first game of the season against Peppermint Patty's team, the plants turn out to be an unexpected advantage.

(originally aired March 16, 1976 • 30 minutes)

11:00 Live storytelling and cartooning performance with Joe Wos: Mini cartoon workshop immediately following upstairs in the Education Room

12:30 Charles Schulz: A Charlie Brown Life

Overview of Schulz's life and career—part of the A&E's Biography series. With interviews with Schulz's son and daughter, cartoonists Lynn Johnston (For Better or For Worse) and Cathy Guisewite (Cathy), coworkers, and even the woman who inspired the Little Red-Haired Girl.

(originally aired December 25, 1995 • 45 minutes)

1:15 The Girl in the Red Truck

A blend of live-action and animation: Spike's life in the desert takes an unexpected turn as he falls for a girl named Jenny. Jenny's boy friend wants her to move to Los Angeles with him, and Spike and Jenny must decide if the city life is really for them.

(originally aired September 28, 1988 • 46 minutes)

2:15 This is America, Charlie Brown: The Music and Heroes of America

Schroeder and Franklin try to give a school report about great American musicians, but they are interrupted by Snoopy's antics and Lucy's report on historical American heroes (part of the This is America, Charlie Brown series).

(originally aired May 23, 1989 • 30 minutes)

2:45 A Boy Named Charlie Brown

Produced and directed by Lee Mendelson, this 1963 documentary about Charles Schulz shows him working in his studio, talking about his creative process and the popularity of the newly-released book, Happiness is a Warm Puppy, and attending "Charlie Brown Day" at Candlestick Park in San Francisco.

(created in 1963 • 30 minutes)

3:30 Live storytelling and cartooning performance with Joe Wos: Mini cartoon workshop immediately following up stairs in the Education Room

4:15 pm • The Charlie Rose Interview

In this interview with Charlie Rose, Charles Schulz discusses his personal history, the history of Peanuts, and the strip's upcoming 50th anniversary (in 2000). Schulz also reveals that his own personality is the inspiration for Charlie Brown.

(originally aired May 9, 1997 • 40 minutes)

*Please visit our Video Nook at the end of the Great Hall to view our Introductory Video.