

Charles M. Schulz Museum & Research Center Safety Precautions for Camps and Classes

The Charles M. Schulz Museum (CMSM) is committed to offering enriching, quality camp programs while providing a safe and healthy environment in accordance with County of Sonoma guidelines. CMSM will implement the precautions below to ensure the maximum safety for all participants. Students who have underlying health conditions that put them at particular risk for COVID-19 should not enroll in camps.

- Parents will be asked to sign a liability waiver before children can attend any in-person camps or classes at CMSM.
- All CMSM staff, instructors, and volunteers will be required to wear face coverings for the duration of the camp, except during snack breaks or when providing instruction to the group from a distance greater than 6 feet (masks will be worn when providing instruction on an individual basis). They will have temperature checks and answer health assessment questions each morning.
- Camps will be held in two separate education classrooms in Othmar Hall at the Museum.
- Parents will check in outside the Museum classrooms. Upon arrival, the parent will be asked to answer health assessment questions regarding their child. Each child's temperature will be taken. Parents will be required to wear face masks and social distance and will not be allowed to enter Othmar Hall.
- Each camp session will have a stable group of no more than 14 campers. Campers may not be enrolled at other camps with overlapping dates.
- Campers may not change from one group to another.
- Separate camp sessions will not mix with each other and will use separate outdoor spaces.
- Camp instructors will remain stable and stay with one group per session only.
- Campers, staff, instructors, and volunteers who are sick must stay home.
- Campers will be required to wash or sanitize hands throughout the day including but not limited to arrival, before and after inside and outside activities, before and after eating, before and after restroom use, and prior to leaving for the day.
- All campers are required to wear face coverings when indoors and when a six-foot physical distance from others cannot be maintained. Face coverings may be removed during snack and other outdoor breaks as long as six feet of physical distance can be maintained. If a child shows up for camp without a face covering, the Museum will provide one for the day.
- Campers will be required to social distance.
- Activities will be held outside whenever possible.
- Campers will have their own camp supplies for the week not to be shared with other children, unless requested to be grouped together by all parents of the children in a group.
- All campers will be required to bring their own water and food and are asked not to share. Eating spaces will be set up to maximize space between campers.
- All supplies, furniture, classrooms, and facilities will be professionally cleaned and sanitized daily after camps to provide a safe and clean classroom every morning.
- Changes to rules and regulations governing day camps by the Sonoma County Health Officer may require changes to this protocol, including the cancellation or changes to activities or the format of camps in progress. In all events, CMSM will endeavor to follow all County rules and guidelines.
